

A brave woman named Judi Bari came to the redwoods to show the loggers and Earth First! people they could be friends. The loggers liked her because she was a carpenter and worked with wood, just like them. She was also very funny and could make people laugh. Judi played the fiddle and sang songs with her friend Darryl, who played guitar.