

On September 17, 1998 a man called Gypsy, who was trying to slow down the logging, was killed when a MAXXAM logger cut a tree that fell on him. Now more people came to the redwoods to make Gypsy and Judi's dream of saving Headwaters Forest come true.